E. WELLNITZ

It has been the purpose of the 1929 Wyo Staff in the creation of this volume to honestly and fairly present the life of the school year of 1928-29 and, if possible, to inject into the drab story of days, the colorful story of life as it is seen on the campus of The University of Wyoming.

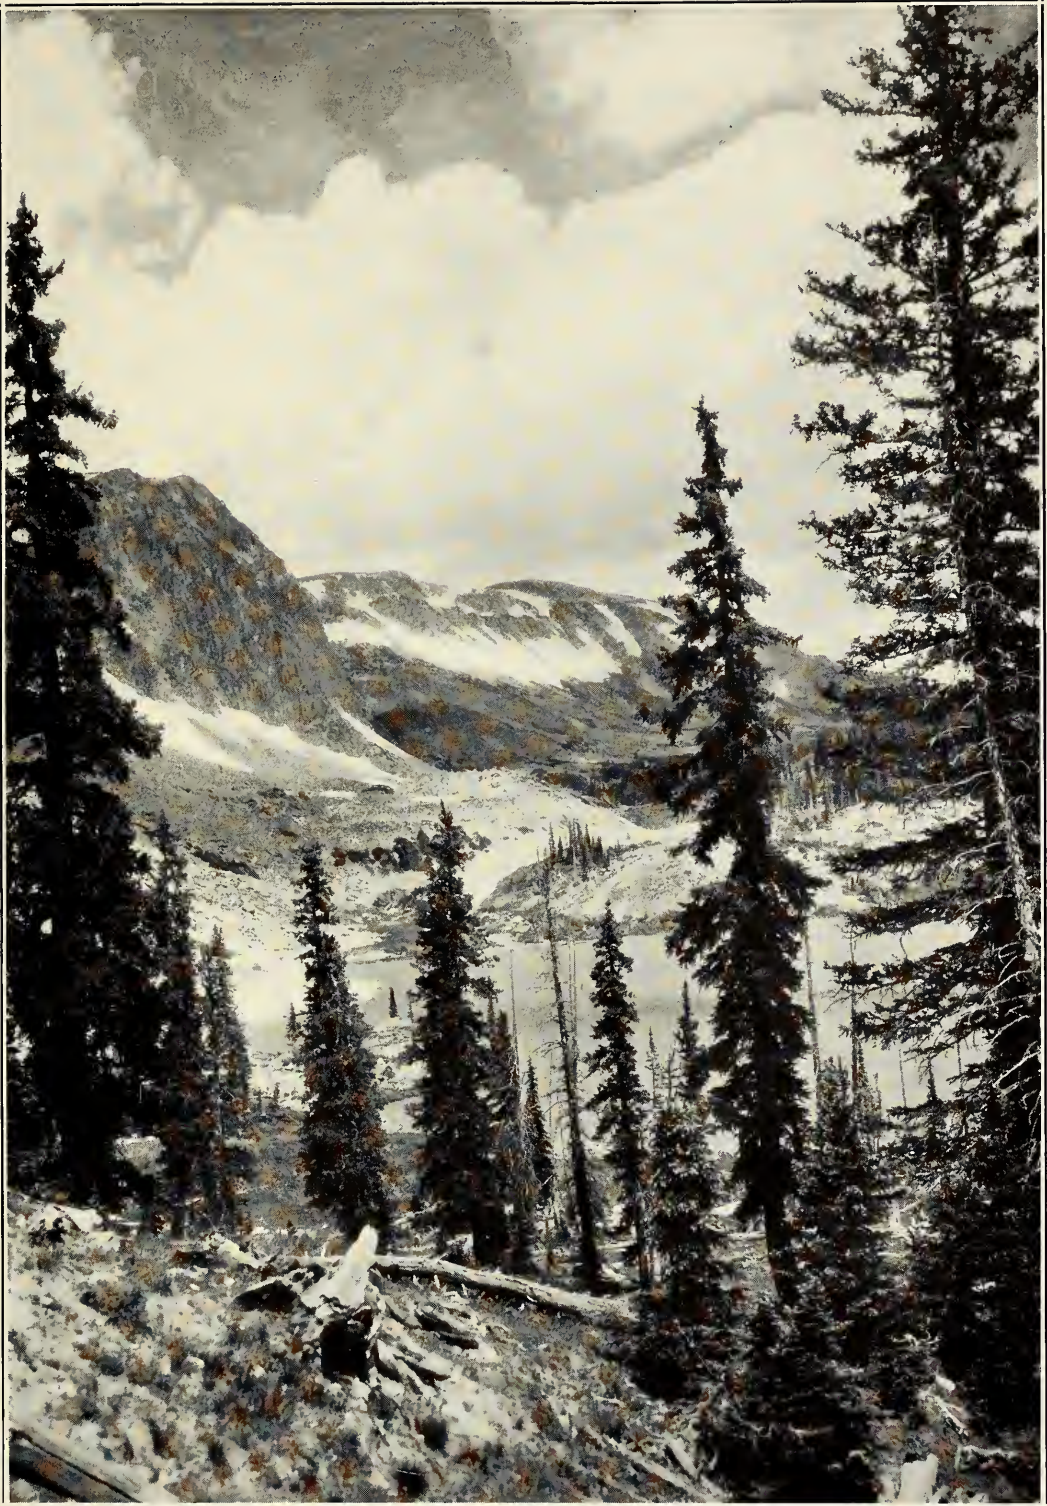

THE DEDICATION

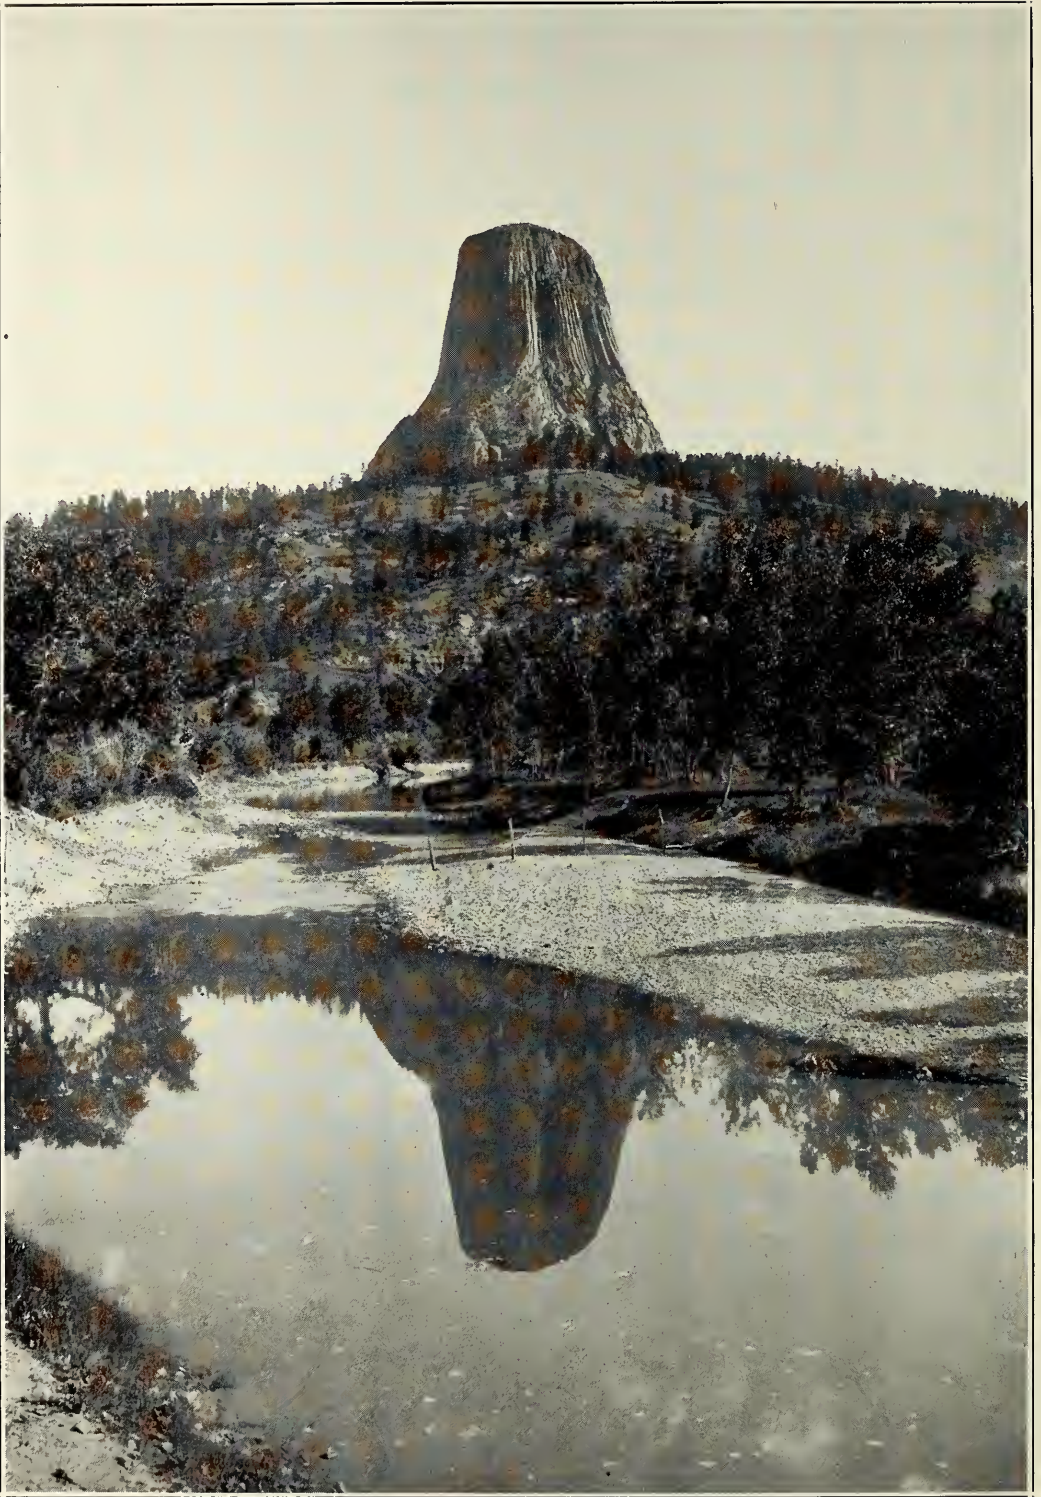

To the grandeur and magnificence of Wyoming, "the playground of the world," which is so graphically portrayed in the democracy and largeness of the students of the University; to the development of all that is beautiful in this state, both the beauty of the youth and the beauty of the mountains, which has been the inspiration of the youth, this book is dedicated.

THE ADMINISTRATION

PRESIDENT ARTHUR GRISWOLD CRANE, PH.D.

GOVERNOR FRANK C. EMERSON

P. T. MILLER, M.A.,
Dean of the College of Liberal Arts.

The Division of Letters and Sciences

THE COLLEGE OF LIBERAL ARTS is the oldest and by far the largest of the colleges on the University campus. It is the school around which the rest of the work of the University is built. Until this year this college has been under the direction of Dean Justus Soule, who was relieved of the duties this year by Professor P. T. Miller, head of the Chemistry department.

The college offers the degrees of B.A., B.S., M.A., and M.S., and in connection with the University of Chicago offers work towards the doctorate in Geology.

The Liberal Arts College offers training for those students who desire a general cultural education before the further work which would specially train them in their chosen fields.

JOHN A. HILL, B.S.,
Dean of the College of Agriculture.

The College of Agriculture

THE COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE is one of the most famous of the schools on the campus, through the extension work that is carried on in the state and through the prize-winning stock that is the property of the school.

Under the direction of Dean Hill and his associates, the University livestock has been shown at all the important shows of the country and has invariably carried off a major portion of the honors.

In addition to the work carried on on the campus, the College of Agriculture has an extensive force in the field which is in direct contact with the farmer and rancher of the state helping him to meet his immediate problems in the best way.

ROBERT L. RHOADS, M.E.,
Dean of the College of Engineering.

The College of Engineering

STARTING as one of the first colleges on the campus as the College of Mechanic Arts, the engineering college has had a steady and healthy growth until it is now one of the outstanding schools on the campus, both in the excellence of its equipment and instruction and the number of students enrolled.

The school is housed in one of the most beautiful and useful buildings on the campus, which building includes a complete set of well-equipped shops and a complete complement of office and classroom facilities.

Achievement day for the engineers has become one of the outstanding days of the year and serves to show just what has been done in that school.

CHARLES R. MAXWELL, A.M.,
Dean of the College of Education.

The College of Education

THE COLLEGE OF EDUCATION has become not only the training school for the teachers of the high schools of the state but also an information bureau for teachers and executives of the schools of Wyoming. Dean Maxwell acts as personal advisor to most of the high schools in the selection of the various teachers and in most cases the graduates from the University of Wyoming are given preference.

The University training school serves as a laboratory for this school and practically all of the instruction in this secondary school is given by student teachers under the supervision of competent and highly trained critic teachers.

CHARLES H. KINNANE, J.S.D.,
Dean of the Law School.

The Law School

THROUGH the efforts of the past and present deans of the Law School this division of the University has become one of the best known throughout the country. It is one of the thirty-nine schools which have received the Class A rating of the American Bar Association, and is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. The Law School, in number enrolled, is the smallest college on the campus.

The school has fine quarters on the third floor of the Library, having at its disposal several class rooms, offices for the instructors and a moot court room that is correct and complete in every detail.

The fine records that have been made by the graduates of the school speak well for the quality of the training and a graduate of the school has yet to be found who could not pass the state bar examinations. Graduates are filling places of prominence and responsibility throughout the state.

HELEN B. DUNNEWALD, M.A.,
Dean of Women.

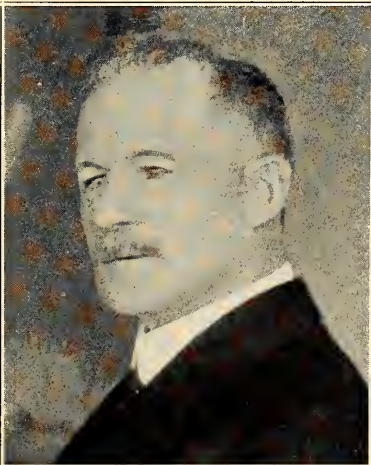

The Dean of Women

NOT only is she the head of all the social activity on the campus but also the task of direct supervision of all the activity of the University women falls to the lot of the Dean of Women and her corps of assistants. Dean Dunnewald is making a fine attempt to hold the reputation of University women at the high level that it now occupies and is meeting with great success.

The Dean of Men

DUE to the press of the work of the Dean of Men, Dean Soule was recently relieved of his work as Dean of the Liberal Arts College and will now devote his full time to the work of his office. The men of the campus find in Dean Soule a man always willing to assist in every worthy enterprise for the development of the University and he has become the friend of countless students with whom he has come in contact.

JUSTUS FREELAND SOULE, A.M.,
Dean of Men.

RALPH E. McWHINNIE, B.A.,
Registrar.

The Registrar

UNDER the direction of Ralph McWhinnie, the Registrar's office has become one of the most inclusive sources of information on the campus. Not only is this office a record room of a student's scholastic activity, but his record also includes his extra-curricular activities and honors.

The office also handles the work of the Wyoming Alumni Association.

The Librarian

WITHIN the past few years the library has developed to such an extent that practically no subject is omitted from the countless books, magazines, pamphlets and newspapers that have been gathered in the University Library under the direction of Reba M. Davis, librarian. Never has a request for assistance gone unheeded by the most excellent group of efficient and courteous helpers.

REBA DAVIS, B.L.S.,
Librarian.

GEORGE EDWIN KNAPP,
Director, Division of Music.

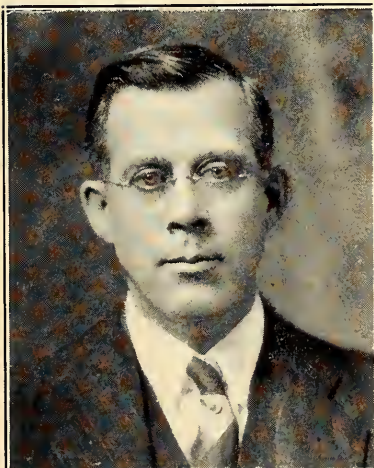

The Division of Music

THE DIVISION OF MUSIC offers three courses leading to proficiency as teacher, theorist or professional musician. The Division is responsible for many of the fine musical entertainments that come to the campus each year.

The Division of Commerce

STARTING with a small school, teaching mostly the branches of stenography and bookkeeping, the Commerce School has developed into one of the most complete units on the campus. Splendid courses are offered in Business Administration and Accounting, which courses fit their graduates for active and immediate work in the field of business.

E. DEANE HUNTON, M.B.A.,
Head, Division of Commerce.

CLARA B. BOWMAN, B.A.,
Division of Correspondence Study.

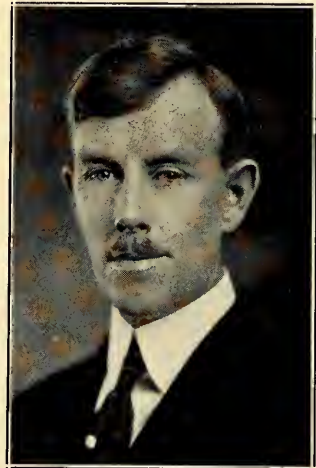

The Division of Correspondence Study

FOR those people who desire a college education, yet have not the means or time to engage in residence study, the Division of Correspondence Study offers study in many of the courses of the University. Increasingly large numbers of students are being enrolled in this division.

The Extension Division

ADDED to the fine courses that are offered on the campus, the Extension Division goes right out in the field and teaches the farmers and stock growers of the state the latest and best methods for the development of their industries. The finest and most useful methods are taught in the fields of Home Economics and Agriculture.

A. E. BOWMAN, B.A.,
Director of Extension Division.

PANHELLENIC

THIS organization has greatly aided in promoting good feeling and in securing cooperation among the sororities. Its outstanding achievement of the year was the Panhellenic Ball at the gymnasium in March.

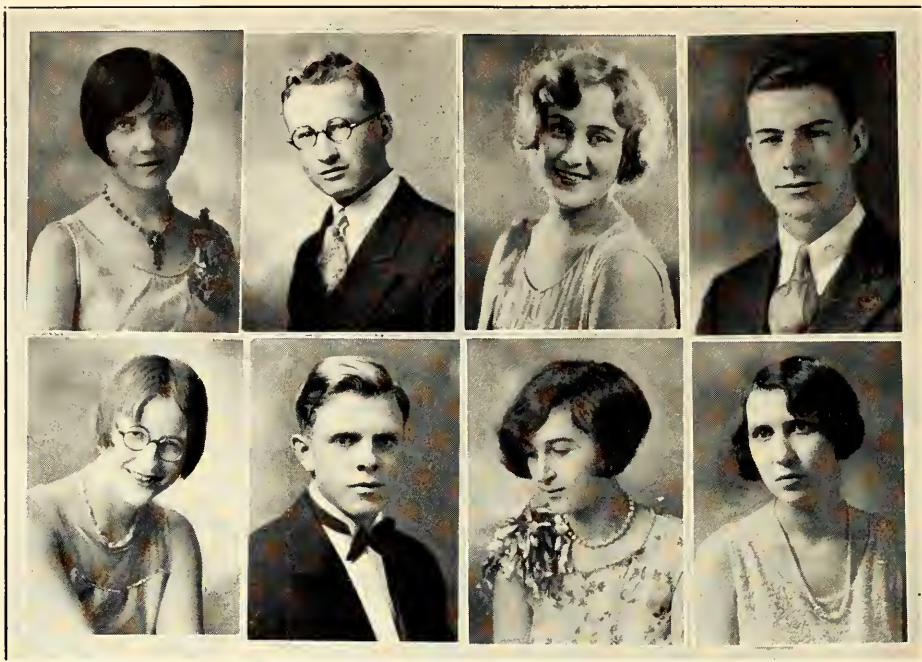

In Memory of
Mrs. Anna Broady Haggard

who was our sincere and loyal friend on the Board of Trustees of the University of Wyoming from 1923 to October 11, 1928, at which time death took her from us.

Tryouts for the organization are held twice a year, at which aspirants submit original manuscripts under a nom-de-plume.

BIG SISTERS

THE BIG SISTER Organization which was organized in the spring of 1926, is comparatively new on this campus. In the fall the members meet all the trains and escort the freshman girls to their rooms and help them get acquainted on the campus.

The organization is composed of ten girls and a chairman.

The Big Sisters sponsored the Freshman Mixer and the Co-ed Ball at which the freshmen become acquainted with each other and with the upper-classmen.

The Co-ed Ball was for women students only. The upper-class women dressed in gentlemen's clothing, called for the freshmen girls and escorted them to the dance. The affair was a big success this year.

A costume ball each year is sponsored by the Big Sisters. Stunts are given by the various sororities and the two halls, and a prize for the cleverest stunt is given.

The object of the society, as stated in its constitution, is "to preserve and develop among its members the essential qualities of good and efficient officers; to prepare them, as educated men, to take a more active part in the military affairs of the community; and, above all, to spread intelligent information concerning military requirements of the United States." The requirements for election are that: "the candidate shall be a member, or a graduate of, the R.O.T.C. Unit at the University of Wyoming; he shall have had above average grade in his work in the Military Department; and shall have a recommendation from the Professor of Military Science and Tactics stating his special fitness to exercise command and leadership and his general worthiness for election."

This ball is held on the evening before Memorial Day and the pledging for the following year is announced at this time. As the first year Advance Course men assume command of the Battalion for the parade held on Memorial Day, the date of the dance makes a suitable time for the issuing of invitations to become members of FORWARD ECHELON.

MILITARY

Scabbard and Blade

E COMPANY, 7th Regiment, of the National Society of Scabbard and Blade, was installed at the University of Wyoming on June 4, 1929, by H Company, 4th Regiment, of Colorado Agricultural College. It replaced the local honorary military society, Forward Echelon, which had been founded here on March 22, 1925.

Scabbard and Blade is a national military society made up of selected cadet officers at colleges and universities where there are companies of the society. At present there are seventy-seven companies at as many different institutions offering baccalaureate degrees. The society was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1905, with the formation of A Company, 1st Regiment.

The purpose of Scabbard and Blade is to raise the standard of military training in American colleges and universities, to unite in closer relationship their military departments, to encourage and foster the essential qualities of good and efficient officers, and to promote intimacy and good fellowship among the cadet officers. The society offers trophies each year for rifle and pistol competitions between companies of the society and also for competitions between R.O.T.C. units.

Each year the local organization sponsors the Cadet Ball. This year the Ball was held on the night of the installation of Scabbard and Blade on this campus and the installing team from Colorado Aggies were the honored guests. At this same affair sixteen members of the first year advanced course were pledged to the local company. The ball was preceded by an installation banquet, speakers at which were George Sandy, captain of the Colorado Aggies' Company, Winston Howard for the newly installed company, Major Beverly C. Daly for the Military Department, Dean Justus F. Soule for the University, and E. Deane Hunton for the alumni cadet officers.

DEBATE

THE year 1928-1929 was one of the most interesting debate seasons in the history of the University. A large number of students have participated in varsity debates, which included seven men—Al Pence, Winston Howard, Harold Scott, Bill Holland, Harry Hall, Paul Scott and Jay Mowrey; and six women—Marguerite Blair, Hazel Krieg, Molly Peacock, Rachel Achenbach, Olive Cushing and Alice Ellen Ford.

The Men's Debate Trips

MR. WILMER STEVENS, one of the debate coaches, with Winston Howard and Bill Holland, made a two weeks' trip east. On March 22 they met the University of Nebraska team at North Platte with the negative side of the question, "Resolved, that a substitute should be adopted for trial by jury." This was a non-decision debate, but occasioned much interest. At Topeka, the boys met the University of Kansas with the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved that we should have government ownership of water power," in which the decision was given in favor of Wyoming. At Canton, Mo., the boys lost on the affirmative side of the jury question to Culver-Stockton college. It was felt that the University team was doing well that night, but they had had no time to rest due to irregular train schedules. A split team debate with Illinois Wesleyan University on the water power question proved very interesting. At Milwaukee, another split team debate on the jury question with Marquette University was held. The Cowboy debaters lost to Hastings' College, Nebraska, upholding the affirmative of the jury question.

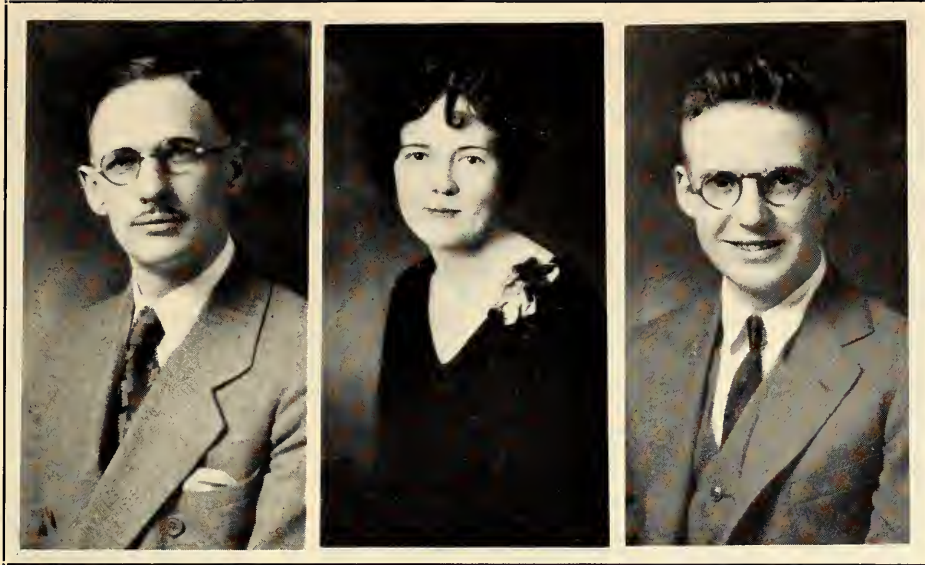

Al Pence and Harold Scott, who went with Mr. Constans, had a somewhat more successful trip. They won three of the eight decision debates scheduled. A non-decision debate at the University of Utah was the first on their program. At Brigham Young University the Cowboys lost the decision. At Salem, Oregon, the boys defeated Willamette University on the jury question. At Portland, Oregon, a radio debate was held with the University of Oregon. A radio audience vote was given in favor of the Wyoming team. Oregon State College won the next debate. At Tacoma, Washington, the Wyoming debaters defeated the College of Puget Sound, upholding the affirmative of the jury question. Non-decision debates were held with the College of Idaho and Montana State College. Wyoming lost to Gonzaga University at Spokane, and at Thermopo'is, Wyoming, to Baylor University.

The Women's Debate Trips

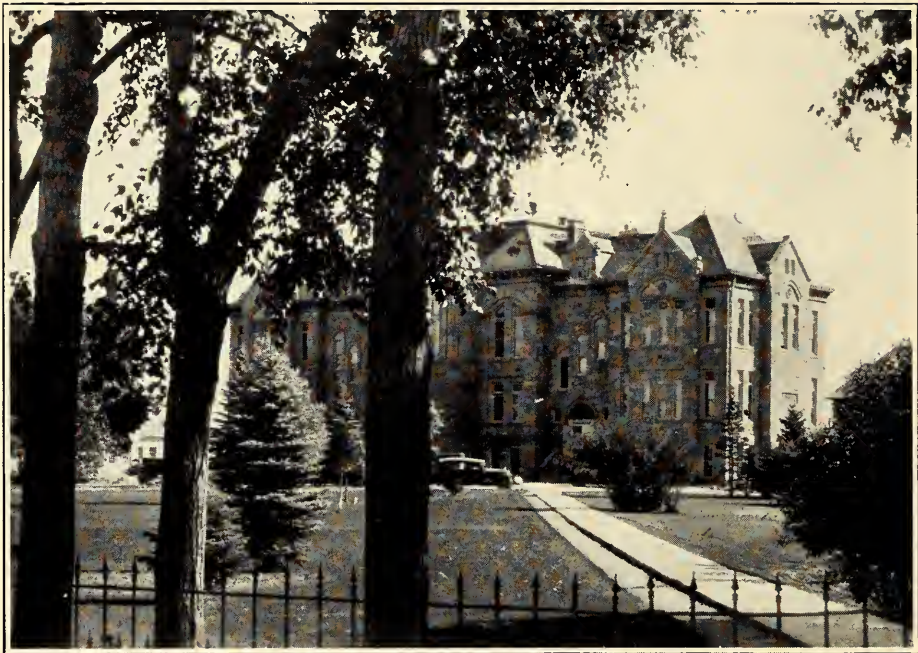

THE interest in women's debating has been keener this year than ever before. The women completed the season, winning four out of their five decision debates. The first debate of the season was held here at Laramie with Greeley Teachers' College. Three debaters were used on each side, Molly Peacock, Marguerite Blair and Alice Ellen Ford upholding the affirmative of the jury question. A unanimous three-judge decision was given in favor of the Wyoming team. Early in April a non-decision debate with the Oklahoma University men's team was held at Laramie. Olive Cushing and Alice Ellen Ford upheld the negative of the question, "Resolved, that we deplore the growth of chain stores."

Miss Phelan accompanied Marguerite Blair and Hazel Krieg on a two weeks' trip to the south. Eight debates were scheduled, four of which were decision debates. A split-team debate on the jury question was held with Friends' University at Wichita, Kansas, in which the negative side won. At Winfield, Kansas, a non-decision debate was held with Southwestern College, Wyoming upholding the affirmative of the jury question. The girls lost with the affirmative of the jury question to Phillips University at Enid, Oklahoma. The decision was given by one expert judge who admitted that the Wyoming team had the better argument in theory, but he personally couldn't believe that it would work, thus verifying Miss Phelan's opinion that the girls did remarkably well in that debate. At Norman, Oklahoma, a non-decision debate on the chain store question was held with the University of Oklahoma. A unanimous three-judge decision was awarded the Wyoming girls at Oklahoma Baptist University. A non-decision debate on the chain store question was held at Texas State College for Women.

Women's Debate

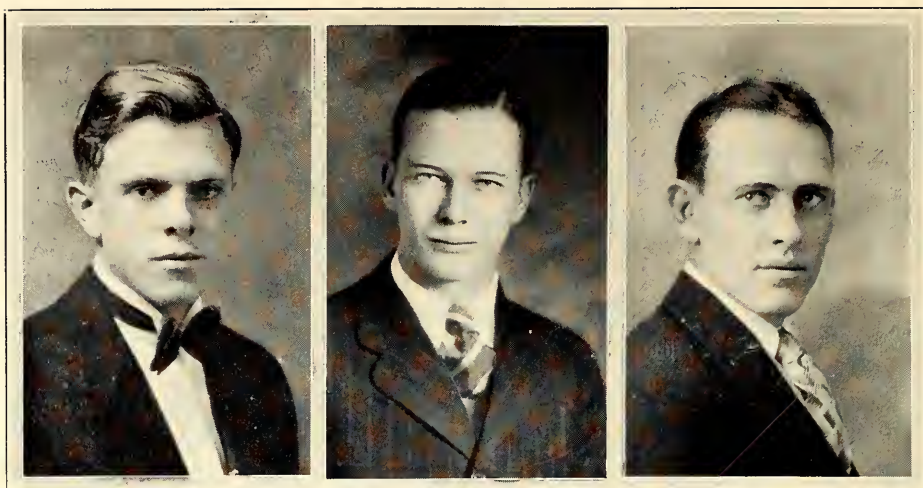

THE victory at Baylor College was perhaps the climax of the season for the Cow-girl debaters. For 86 years, the entire life of the college, debate has been stressed as the main activity on the campus, and Baylor College has an enviable record in this activity. The Wyoming girls won by the decision of an expert judge, thus giving Baylor its second home defeat in 86 years. Another victory was scored at Greeley Teachers' College when the two debaters who had made the trip met Rachel Achenbach and debated the Greeley team on the negative of the jury question. A unanimous three-judge decision was awarded for Wyoming.

STOCK JUDGING

The Eastern Trip, 1928

THE Senior team left November 4th and returned December 6th, after an extended trip through the middle west. Several days were spent in Omaha at the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show, where the team engaged in actual show-ring practice by assisting in the exhibition of U. W.'s noted prize-winning livestock. Considerable time was spent inspecting the many famous herds on exhibition at the show.

Practice judging was done on several campuses in the middle west and famous herds were inspected near the following cities: Omaha and Lincoln, Nebraska; Manhattan and Wichita, Kansas; Kansas City, Missouri; Ames, Iowa; and Chicago, Illinois. The team entered the Intercollegiate Judging Contest at the American Royal Stock Show at Kansas City and placed seventh in a class of eleven. At the International Livestock Show in Chicago they proved that "Wyoming never quits" and placed fifth in a class of twenty-two teams representing the largest and strongest universities and colleges in the United States.

Wyoming as a livestock state may well be proud of this team, they having made the best record of any team yet sent out.

Western International Stock Show Team

IN competition with teams from Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Utah, Wyoming, represented by William Duncan, Lander; Sylvester Martin, Cody; Archie Hale, Afton; Francis Winters, Basin, and Orval Greaser, Laramie, placed fourth, just eleven points under the Colorado team, which placed second, and six points under the Nebraska team, which placed third. The following fall at the International Livestock Exposition the Wyoming team placed above all of the teams it competed against at Denver, placing fifth among twenty-one teams. Alternates representing Wyoming in the 1929 contest at Denver were Clifford Sims, Farson, Wyoming, and William Harkin, Belfry, Montana. Individual honors for Wyoming went to William Duncan, who placed sixth, followed by Orval Greaser, who placed ninth. Prior to the contest the team trained at a number of purebred livestock farms in the vicinity of Fort Collins and Denver.

1929 Wyo Beauty Contest

FOLLOWING the precedent set by the management of the 1928 Wyo, the staff members of the 1929 Wyo used again this year the method of having the Wyo beauty contest winners selected by an artist and illustrator of national renown and reputation.

The portraits of the winners of the beauty contest, shown on the following pages, were chosen by a well known American artist from a large number submitted to him during the winter season.

1929 Wyo Popularity Contest

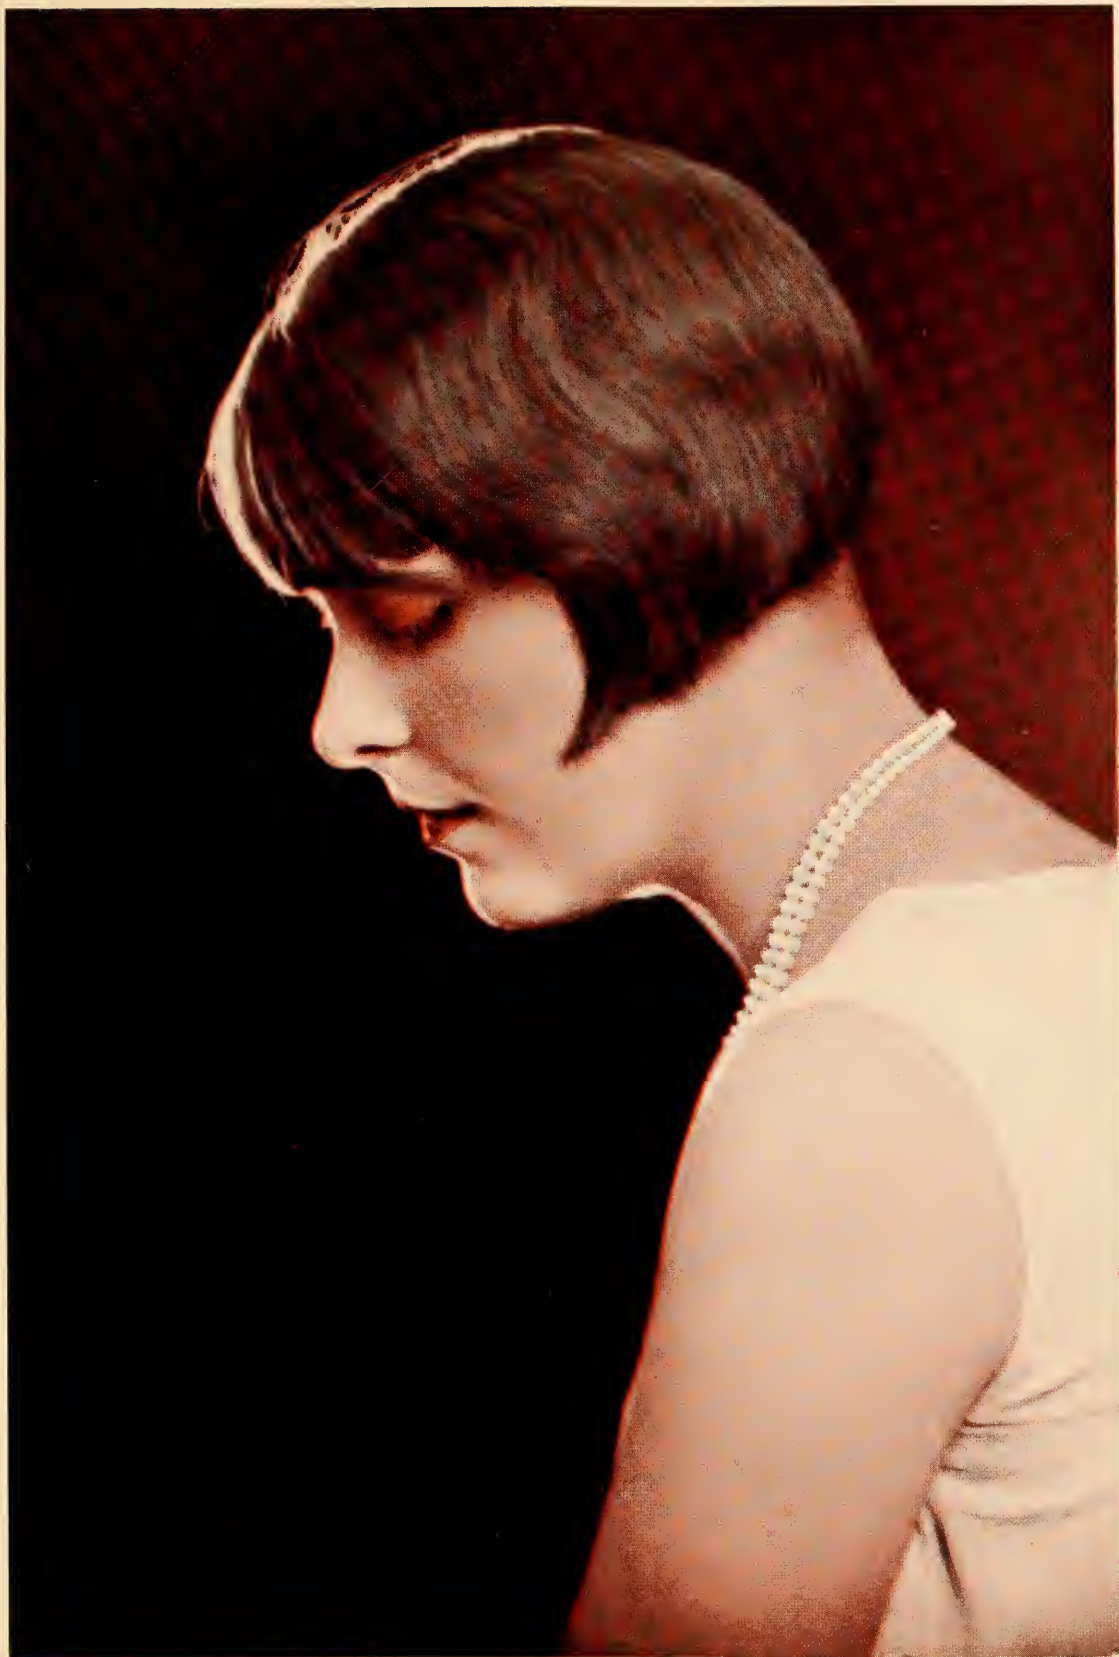

Through the medium of a contest conducted in conjunction with one of the early sales campaigns of the 1929 Wyo, there were selected the three young ladies of the Cowboy campus, who, according to the number of votes tallied in various ways during the contest, were adjudged by the student body as the most popular in this institution. They also appear in full page portraits in the following section.

State Basketball Champions

WHEATLAND high school wears the crown of Wyoming state basketball champion. The king of Wyoming teams was crowned at the University Gym Saturday, March 23, as the climax of High School Week and a week of basket tossing. All this was brought about when the Wheatland Bulldogs downed Glenrock, the Class B winner, by a score of 26 to 14.

The state champions went through the week of basketball undefeated and advanced to the final by defeating Casper on two separate occasions. As Casper had defeated Cheyenne and the Indians had defeated Laramie it looks very much as if Wheatland holds the championship unchallenged. Glenrock lost its only game of the tournament Saturday night and there was never any doubt but that Glenrock was the class of the B division.

Due to the fact that Wheatland uses a slow-breaking offense and plays from back of a tightly-woven defense the game Saturday night was a little slow and at times threatened to become uninteresting. Glenrock was off with the basket and could not break through the Wheatland defense with any sustained degree of success. It was a long shooting game, with both teams plugging away from a distance. McGinty finally became hot in the last half after he had spent the first half throwing the ball away in the general direction of the hoop.

After McGinty started hitting from a distance the Bulldogs pulled away and had an easy time during the closing half. Glenrock made a contest of the game during the first half but slumped during the third quarter to allow the champions to pile it on to such an extent that the final quarter was played with the game in the bag for Wheatland.

Wheatland's team was composed of B'rd, Rugg, S. Dearing, Titus, Turner, Cave, Capt. H. Dearing, McGinty, Nelson, manager.

Winners, Class B

FOOTBALL

FOOTBALL for the season of 1928 was not what the University expected, although we had one of the best teams in the history of Football, it was just one of those teams which couldn't get started, and along with the teams which we played Wyoming was always a big "threat" and our opponents were always glad when the game with Wyoming was over.

The first game of the season was with the Black Hills Teachers' College, which we won, 40 to 0. This was just a practice game and we found out then that our team was to be a real threat.

The next game was played at Laramie with Kearney Normal. Wyoming won 19 to 6.

Along about October 3 we started for Chicago to play the first Big Ten Team Wyoming has ever had the pleasure to compete with and after playing before a crowd of 35,000 people Chicago won, 47 to 0.

Our next game was with Utah Aggies and we lost, 24 to 6. This was one of the best games played.

Homecoming was the next game played on October 27, with Colorado Teachers, and we lost, 28 to 0.

University of Denver was the next game and they won, 26 to 7.

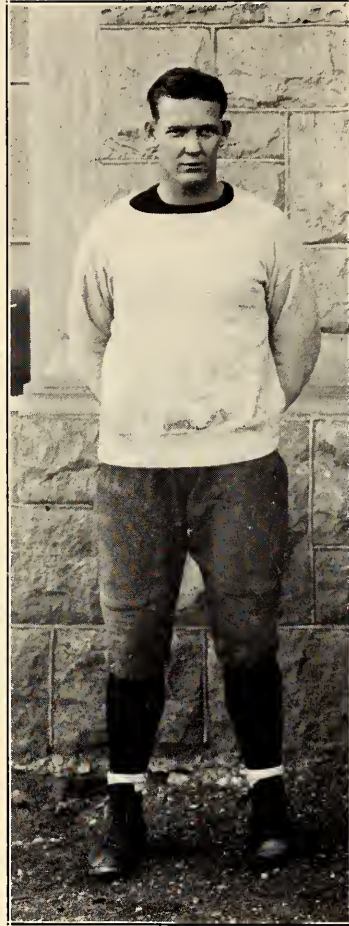

We played the Montana Bobcats at Billings, Montana. This game was lost, 14 to 7.

Chadron was the next home game, and we lost that, 33 to 0.

We left for Colorado Springs to play our last game of the season on November 24th, and that was lost, 48 to 25.

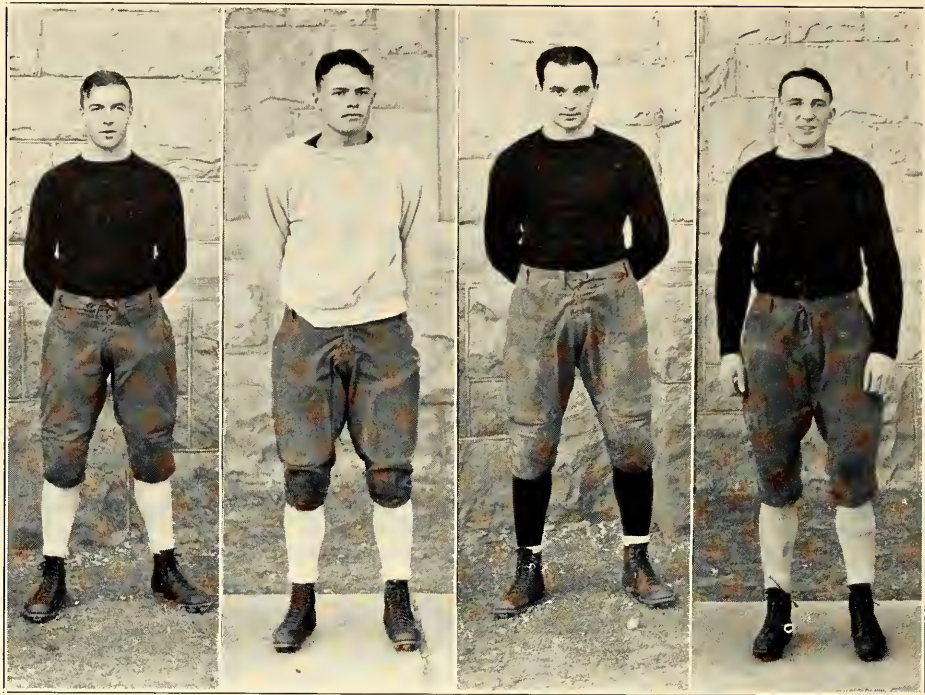

By graduation we lost Captain Duncan, Larry Hart, Toucher, Osbourn, Bennett, Har-kins.

The coming year the material we will have for Football looks good and when all of the boys who played on the Freshman team report for Varsity suits, Wyoming will have a team that will really be a credit to the University. The boys will be back and fighting for the different positions on the team and for "Old Wyo."

CAPTAIN OUTSEN

WITH three regulars and four reserve lettermen back, and all of whom answered the call for basketball candidates, Coach McLaren had a goodly group around which to form his nucleus for a winning basketball team.

The regulars who were issued suits last year were: Captain Robert Outsen, Charles Coughlin and John Engstrom. Among the reserve material available were: Dunker, Coletti, Jiacoletti and Thomas. There was an abundant supply of Frosh material to turn up and some of these men showed up well before the season was over.

JANUARY 7, 1929

WYOMING (32) UTAH AGGIES (25)

The first game of the season was won by the Wyoming Cowboys when they defeated the Utah Aggies in a close and hard-fought battle in the University Gym.

Captain Outsen led his team in scoring. He counted five field goals. Dunker, playing at the running guard post, was all that could be expected of any man from the same position. Besides playing a nice floor game, he hit the loop four times and made one by the free throw route. Coletti, speedy forward of the Wyoming squad, put the game on ice when he made three buckets in a row.

JANUARY 8, 1929

WYOMING (21)

UTAH AGGIES (19)

Johnny Engstrom saved the day for Wyoming, when he looped the basket for a pair of two-timers, that put the count at 21 to 19 for Wyoming. Thomas, star forward, was the high point man of the game and it was his classy dribbling that indirectly enabled Wyoming to keep within gunshot of the Aggies and the basket. Smith, center of the Aggies, was the big man for his team. The Utes staged a hard and brilliant fight, but the Cowboys bested them in the last few seconds of play by Engstrom's great shooting.

JANUARY 11, 1929

During the Christmas vacation, the Wyoming basketball team settled it for all time that they had the best team in the city. They completely outplayed and outscored the Union Pacific Athletes by the score of 45 to 27. Engstrom, Captain Outsen and Thomas all were hitting the loop in great style. On the last Friday of vacation, they defeated the Kearney Normal by the score of 39 to 20. The game was slow and at no time did the Nebraska School throw a big scare into the Wyoming camp.

DENVER (28)

Playing their first Conference game of the season, Wyoming downed Denver University in a basketball game, that contained many thrills, by the count of 31 to 28. Coletti was high-point man of the game. He tallied five times from the floor and twice from the gift line. He was ably assisted by Captain Outsen and Engstrom. Charles Coughlin, Wyoming's All-Conference guard, played a first-class defensive game.

JANUARY 19, 1929

WYOMING (29)

DENVER (23)

When they met Denver the second time, Wyoming put them even lower than they did the first time, led by the brilliant John Engstrom, who alone accounted for six baskets and two free throws. Denver took the lead, but the strong Wyoming outfit was not to be denied, so they took away the lead and passed it by somewhat. The Cowboys' defense was far better than usual, and it was next to impossible for the D. U. men to get in for a close shot. Captain Outsen and Coughlin both turned in exceptionally good floor games.

COLORADO UNIVERSITY (22)

With 5,000 spectators on the watching and cheering end of the game, the Wyoming quintet vanquished the Colorado University basketeurs in a fast game by the count of 30 to 22.

The game was played before Governor Frank C. Emerson and the members of the Twentieth Wyoming legislature. With Coletti on a scoring rampage, the Cowboys could not be stopped. Captain Outsen, Engstrom and Coughlin carried the brunt of the attack for the Cowboys, but they were ably assisted by Gaer, who besides contributing 4 points to the cause, played a nice floor game. McNiff got his first taste of College basketball and was all that could be expected of such a man. McNiff is good sized and fast for a big man.

JANUARY 28, 1929

COLORADO UNIVERSITY (25)

WYOMING (22)

With the entire Cowboy team off balance, the Colorado University came to Laramie and turned the trick on Wyoming and won a poorly played game by the count of 25 to 22.

Captain Outsen was the only home man to score any points at all, and he was only good for nine points. The team could not even come close to the loop and with the C. U. men outshooting Wyoming on every angle, it was only logical that they won the game.

WYOMING (39)

MINERS (18)

In a poorly played game on the half-acre court, Wyoming completely ousted the Miners by the one-sided count of 39 to 18.

Led by the brilliant Captain Ousten and Johnny Engstrom, the Cowboys could not be halted at all. Every Wyoming man turned in and gave a good account of himself and after the first few minutes of play, the game was on ice for Wyoming.

WYOMING (25)

C. C. (27)

Wyoming took their second defeat of the season when they were forced to bow to the Colorado College quintet by the close score of 27 to 25. The game was all for Wyoming until late in the game at which time the Cowboys permitted the C. C. aggregation to pile up points and win. The game was the poorest exhibition put up by the Cowboys this season. Engstrom kept Wyoming in the running, while Clark and Waters did the best playing for C. C.

FEBRUARY 3, 1929

WYOMING (27)

COLORADO TEACHERS (29)

After leading with the count of 20 to 11 at the end of the first half, the Cowboys dropped a tough game to the Colorado Teachers by the score of 29 to 27.

The game was a tough one to lose, as Wyoming had by far the superior team, but lacked the scoring punch in the final moments of play. Engstrom and Jiacoletti were the high point men for Wyoming with 11 and 10 points, respectively. Captain Ousten played a nice defensive game and contributed 6 points to the cause.

FEBRUARY 16, 1929

WYOMING (36)

C. C. (35)

In the most thrilling game ever played on the University of Wyoming's half-acre court, the Cowboys branded Colorado College in a fast and furious game by the count of 36 to 35. The game will long be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to see it.

With four and one-half minutes to play, the Colorado College started to play a stalling game. Led by Captain Outsen and with Johnny Engstrom back in the lineup, Wyoming took after the ball and within two minutes after they started for it, they had counted 11 points and won the fastest and hardest game ever played on the local court. "Wyoming Never Quits" was written and rewritten many times during the last few minutes of the great game. Outsen and Engstrom led in the scoring, but the entire team deserves credit for its wonderful comeback.

FEBRUARY 23, 1929

WYOMING (44)

COLORADO AGGIES (34)

Wyoming defeated the Colorado Agricultural School in a clean-fought game by the score of 44 to 34. Wyoming was the first to slip the ball through the loop when the clever Jiacoletti connected for a two-timer. Jiacoletti was high point man of the game, with 9 baskets for a total of 18 points. Captain Outsen and Engstrom also contributed heavily to the scoring. Coughlin and Dunker played a nice defensive game. Day was high-point man for Aggies, with 7 baskets and 4 points by the free-throw route.

WYOMING (53)

AGGIES (39)

Once more the Colorado Aggies were forced to take the short end of the score when Wyoming vanquished them by the count of 53 to 39. The entire Wyoming team played nice ball, but the shooting of Jiacoletti was far above average. The fast forward counted 11 baskets and 2 free throws. This made a total of 42 points for two games.

Captain Outsen, Engstrom and McNiff were also in helping with the scoring at all times. The Wyoming defense was good and it was next to impossible for the Aggies to come down and get a close shot. Day and Ball were high point men for Aggies and most of their points were from long range.

FEBRUARY 26, 1929

WYOMING (44)

REGIS (22)

With Captain Outsen, Engstrom, Coletti, McNiff and Davis on a scoring tour, the Cowboys completely outplayed and outshot the Regis College quintet by the score of 44 to 22.

McNiff, former Laramie High star and All-State center, made his bow and made it quite royally. He was good for 11 points. Mrak and Cell were high point men for Regis with 6 points each.

ON the second day of March, the University of Wyoming was host to the Eastern Division meet, which was won by Colorado University, who collected 47 points. Colorado Aggies was second, with 31 points. Wyoming and Teachers tied for third with 13 markers.

Turner, of Wyoming, took second place for the Cowboys in the fancy diving. Budd and Redburn also did good work for Wyoming.

Due to heavy storms, the entire Eastern Division could not come, but it is something that is started now and in the years to come this meet should be developed into quite a meet.

Track

COACH McLAREN had to practically rebuild a track team from nowhere. He lost some valuable material from last year's team and it was necessary to build from the ground up.

Some stars were uncovered in the Intra-Mural track meet, and most of the men came out for Varsity competition.

With the Boulder relays as their first meet the Cowboys started to work in earnest. Weather conditions would not permit the men to work outside so it was necessary to work in the Armory.

BOULDER RELAYS

WYOMING made a good showing in the Relays. With Scott and Hale both placing in the 100-yard dash and with Hale taking third in the finals of the high hurdles and Kuzara won the javelin. Wyoming led the half-mile relays until they conflicted in a mixup. They finished third. The team was composed of Scott, Thompson, Barker and Hale. The four-mile relay team, which was composed of Huffman, Thatcher, Patch and Fletcher, took a third, but pushed the winners all the way around.

WYOMING, 74; C. C., 60; TEACHERS, 40

In the only triangle meet of the season, Wyoming, led by Hale, left the Colorado Schools in the dust and won the meet with a total of 74 points to 60 for Colorado College and 40 for Colorado Teachers.

Sammy Hale won first in the 100-yard dash, 120-yard high hurdles; 220-yard low hurdles and tied for first in the broad jump. He alone captured 19 points to be high point man of the day. Scott, of Wyoming, took second in the 100-yard dash and won the 220-yard dash. McNiff won the pole vault, while Thatcher captured first in the mile and took second in the half mile.

The following week, the Cowboys again journeyed to Greeley, where they took the Teachers into camp by the score of 75 to 65. The meet did not furnish any thrills, but the Teachers gave Wyoming a good race for their money.

EASTERN DIVISION MEET AT DENVER

Wyoming finished fifth in the Eastern Division meet. Several men of the Wyoming Club were out, but despite the fact, Wyoming did right well.

Kuzara took second in the javelin, while Thatcher took fourth in the mile. Ringert, Cowboy jumper, tied for second in the high jump, while Hale took third in the high hurdles. Sammy led the high hurdles to the ninth hurdle, at which time he hit the hurdles and was forced to take third.

Conference Meet at Salt Lake City

The Cowboys made the best showing last spring that has ever been made by a Wyoming School in the Conference meet. B. Y. U. won the meet with a total of 48½ points. Friday, the day of the preliminaries, was a perfect day, but Saturday turned out with a strong wind blowing against the runners.

Hale, Wyoming's star track man, proved to be the only double winner for the McLaren squad. Sammy raced through to a second in the high hurdles, which went in 15 seconds flat. He was a fourth-place winner in the low hurdles and also ran on the mile relay.

Kuzara, star javelin tosser, came through with a fourth place, and the mile relay, composed of Turner, Thatcher, Ringert and Hale, took fifth place.

Sammy Hale, star track man of the Wyoming team, is one of the best hurdlers in the Conference, as well as a relay man and broad jumper. Great things are expected of Hale in the years to come.

Intra-Mural Basketball

THE basket-tossers of the Sig Alpha house galloped through the annual intra-mural tournament without a defeat. Every competing team was forced to bow before the Sig Alpha aggregation before the final whistle of the tournament was blown.

Their air-tight defense and fast-breaking offense was plenty for most Varsity teams to contend with. Buckley and Thompson looked after the guard courts, while Hale and Watland, the forwards, with the aid of Mau at center, saw to it that the loop was kept warm. Sammy Hale, the high-point man of the tournament, needed only plenty of opposition and a few points behind to come through and give the spectators what they hear about but rarely see. Buckley was the outstanding guard in the field, who always knew that the ball did not belong in his territory. "Tracks" Mau, who was head and shoulders above the game, saw to it that the scorekeepers for the Sig Alphas did not visit dreamland.

The All Intra-Mural team found places for Mau, Buckley and Hale from the Sig Alpha House, Corregan of the Alpha Taus and Welch, Sigma Nu.

Intra-Mural Baseball

THE SIGMA NU fraternity took the Intra-Mural Baseball without much trouble. They had a well-balanced outfit and much credit must be given to Dunker, their pitcher. They won from S. A. E., A. T. O., K. S., and the Dorm teams.

Intra-Mural Track

AGAIN the well-balanced Sig Alph Track Team took home the track honors, which they have won for several decades. However, they were pushed strongly by the Independents, who had an outfit that could make trouble for any intra-mural team. Sammy Hale, the Iowa product, was the outstanding spoke in the wheel, walking off with both hurdles and taking second in the 100-yard dash and the broad jump. Scott was high point man for the I. C.

Intra-Mural Boxing and Wrestling

AGAIN the Sigma Nu fraternity carried away the honors of the boxing and wrestling sport by annexing 20 points, with the Kappa Sigs trailing closely behind with 15. Most of their old material was back and all that was necessary was to shave off the rough corners.

The results of the finals:

WOMEN'S ATHLETICS

Hockey

DURING the season 1928-1929 the University Hockey team played two games. The first was lost to Ft. Collins, with a score of 2 to 1. The second was lost to Greeley with a score of 4 to 1.

The girls making the University team were: Helen Corbett, Jane Hunt, Margaret Cordiner, Myrtle Yoder, Edna Cole, Frances Des Enfants, Jean Nimmo, Lala Mau, Cathryn Johnson, Irene Johnson, Blanche Turner and Bernice Redshaw.

Much interest was also shown in the Inter-Class tournament. The Freshmen won first, the Juniors-Seniors, second, and the Sophomores, third.

Basketball

A GREAT deal of interest was shown in Basketball, resulting in both an intra-mural and inter-class tournament.

The inter-class tournament was won by the Juniors, the Freshmen, second, and the Seniors third.

Hoyt Hall I won the Intra-Mural tournament, the Varsity Villagers being runnersup. In this tournament Turner was high point man, with 85 points; Ruch second with 64, and Grisinger third, with 51.

The University team was selected from material used in these tournaments.

Varsity Basketball

THE VARSITY SQUAD OF BASKETBALL is chosen from all the girls participating in the two tournaments that are run off during basketball season. This group play friendly games of intercollegiate competition with some of the nearby colleges of Colorado. The high point women of this year's tournament were: Blanche Turner, first; Gertrude Rue, second; Margaret Grisinger, third.

EVELYN GOETZ	Left Guard
HAZEL KELLER	Right Guard
GERTRUDE RUCH	Center-Forward
JEAN NIMMO	Center-Guard
BLANCHE TURNER	Right Forward

Swimming

THE Physical Education department sponsored an Inter-Class and Inter-Mural Swimming meet in February.

In the Inter-Class meet the Juniors won first with 45 points, the Freshmen second, with 21; the Sophomores third, with 14, and the Seniors fourth with 11.

Hoyt Hall won first in the Intra-Murals, having a total of 26 points, Kappa Kappa Gamma, second, with 14, Pi Beta Phi, third, with 13, and Delta Phi Sigma, fourth, with 11.

Blanche Turner won first in diving and Myrtle Kirby second. Blanche Turner was also high point individual for the meet, Bertha Dubois, Edna Cole and Laura Bragg tying for second.

Those making the University team were: Blanche Turner, Edna Cole, Inez Fuller, Emma Dallas, Rowene Danielson, Alene McQuinn, Bertha Dubois and Jane Hunt.

Rifle Team

THE Girls' Rifle Team competed successfully in four Inter-Collegiate matches out of eight. This is the first year that the team has really come to the front in an Inter-Collegiate way. These matches were fired against Carnegie Institute of Technology, University of Nebraska, Oklahoma A. & M. College, Northwestern University, Michigan State College, Kansas State Agricultural College, University of Maine and University of Michigan. The Wyoming team included: Des Enfants, Cordiner, Sill, Keating, Raab, Dickson, Lawrence, Seaverson and McKeag. An inter-class rifle match was fired during the season in which the Freshman team, including Keating, Dickson and Hull, carried off the first honors. The Juniors, with Sill, Cordiner and Lawrence, took second.

Life Saving Corps

THE LIFE SAVING CORPS consists of the group of girls who have passed their Senior life-saving test. This group is honored by the event that they are the only group who can act as life guards in the pool. This test is given to the girls, which insures the safety of the swimmers at all times.

Dancing

INTERPRETATIVE DANCING has become one of the prominent activities in the women's P. E. Department. Last year the interpretative dancing class headed the performance of the pageant, "The Giant's Garden." This year, under the direction of Miss Edith Haight, this activity has a special class organized for those interested in advanced dancing.

Women's Physical Education Department

THE WOMEN'S PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT has completed another successful year. This department, being young, only four years old, has improved with every year and has won a position of good standing among the other departments on the campus.

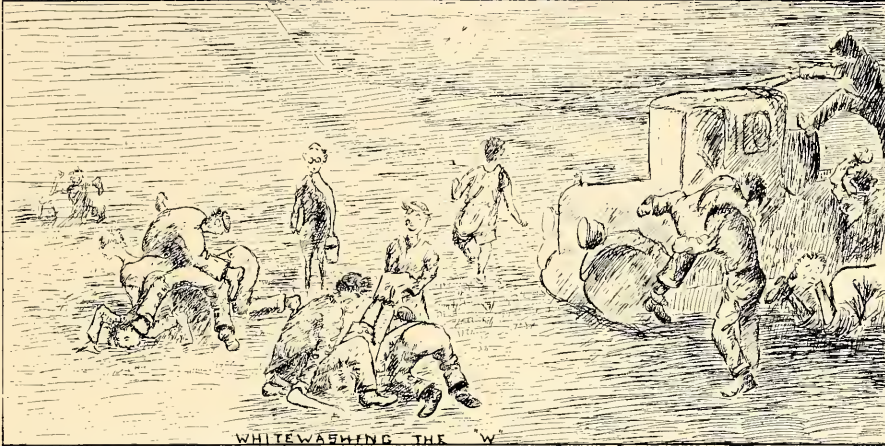

The department last year, under the head of Miss Weed and Miss Blanche Burrows, produced very successfully a pageant called "The Giant's Garden." This was produced in the poolroom of the Gym, where a large stage was built over the lower end of the pool. The operetta included swimming and dancing stunts.

This year the department is conducted under a new head Miss Edith Haight, who is a graduate of Wellesley and with a Master's from the University of Columbia. She is assisted by Miss Ruth Campbell, a graduate of Chicago and of Wyoming, and Mrs. Summers, who is a graduate of Nebraska U, old members of the staff and with an addition of Miss Rittenhouse, who is the school nurse and who has her office at the Gymnasium. The P. E. Department has a great future and is growing rapidly.

THE CO-ED

(From a Prof.)

I took my place before my class,
Which buzzed like swarms of busy
bees;

And, looking up, I saw a sight—
My word—a row of naked knees;
And glaring there before my eyes,
Were legs of every shape and size.

I sometimes stroll the campus green,
When care or worry plagues.
The pretty Co-ed flits about;
She's most arms and legs.
No matter where one goes, he sees
Just scores and scores of naked knees.

YOU SHOULD NEVER FORGET

There is one very necessary qualification for success; it is self-reliance. Unless you believe in yourself, no one else will. Don't ever forget that.

Self-reliance is the cornerstone of achievement over which is erected the temple of success.

Unless you believe you can do a thing, you can't do it.

If you believe you can do it, half the battle is won.

HEAR YE! NOW COMETH THE BLACK LIST

And today, I have been delving into the MURK of social life in the interests of its students.

Such Snobbery as I have discovered! Yea, tidings that will ruin the peace of mind of many a fraternity hitherto fondly resting in the belief that it was quite the pish and tush!

In short, The Black List makes its bow. At least one house that my sleuths have unearthed has already set up a Black List, and the sisters are positively forbidden to date any anxious personage from the houses on said list, no matter how piteously the gentlemen may beg!

Such group EGOTISM we never saw!

And the High and Mighty culprits in this case are the inhabitants of dear old Delta Delta Delta!

And the male boarding clubs that have fallen under the stigmata of the sisters are none other than

Sigma Nu, Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Sigma.

There is reputed to be one other house on the Black List, but the detectives up to a late hour last night had failed to uncover the rejected organization.

Some unkind person has gone so far as to suggest that the action of the Deltas is considerably like saying "I quit" just before you get fired. But nay, it isn't as bad as that.

Preferred lists have been known about for some time, but today marks the inception of "them wot ain't preferred."

I heartily hope that the prescribed hovels will be able to bear up under this great blow!—The Scout.

THE BIRD WHO SLEEPS IN CLASS

Oh yes, you'll find him here, that bird without a peer:

He's a brazen, bragging, buzzard, full of gas;

That intellectual (?) guy who's always getting by,

Can't be bothered by lectures, so he sleeps in class.

You can hear him effervesce, and secretly confess

To some simple, unsuspecting little lass, How he never takes a look at a lesson or a book,

And how pleasant 'tis to slumber in his class.

When the Prof. begins, this sap slouches down to take a nap;

Doesn't need to give attention in his class.

He's a poor deluded guy who thinks he's getting by—

This obnoxious, lazy buzzard full of brass.

I know a girl:

She thinks a tee comes in a caddy and that a five-hundred yard drive isn't worth taking the car out of the garage for, but she says that she finds golf the only sport she can actually take an interest in.

She thinks the rough is something to wear around your neck, that the greens are very healthy because they're full of iron and that a mashie is a flirt. It is her idea that a bunker is a real estate salesman.

When I asked her about her pitch shots, she said she never pitched but she liked to match pennies. The reason she gave for not pitching was that the pennies always seemed to roll away and get lost. While a game of matching, she said, always seemed to end up by holding hands and so she really didn't mind losing a little money for a good cause.

She thinks that the Volstead Act and the Jones' Law are water hazards and that a fairway is a trolley line.

Dizzy Dora, the sweet co-ed, will now

Dear maid who held my heart in thrall,
In this wild age of dissipation,
You stand aloof, untouched by all contamination.

Your mien is modest and demure;
You don't mascara, rouge, or henna;
You go to dances trailed by your duenna.

In this jazz age you have no part.
All this and more I've got to hand you.
And that—why not be frank, dear heart?
Is why I cann-ed you.

"A bridegroom, for kissing the bride
after the ceremony."

"But surely he wouldn't object to that innocent custom?"

"No, but it was two years after the ceremony."

Jimmie: "Greece lost her colonies.
Rome lost her provinces and even our slipping away." A hundred co-eds

THE SENIOR

Like a full rigged ship, started out on a trip.

And anxious to meet all the gales;
But the struggle and strife to be met out in life

May take some of the wind out of his sails.

Most surely he's wise, steeped in lore to his eyes;

Why, wisdom's the air he inhales.
But bitter the pills, when he pays his own bills;

'Twill takes some of the wind out of his sails.

We bid you adieu, as you pass in review;
We pray that your courage ne'er fails.
But you'll be less cocksure over life's rosy lure,

When you've lost some wind from your sails.—The Imp.

THE FRESHMAN

Little Freshman, sweet and prim,
Doesn't know what's waiting him.
Lambkin in the slaughter pen,
Awaits his fate from uppermen.
Butt of all the stale old pranks,
They sell him tickets to his class;
He must salute when seniors pass.

He's made to wear a cap of green,
Must never with a girl be seen.
The lordly soph he must obey,
Must do his bidding night or day.
And should he fail in anything,
Swift retribution it will bring.
And thus it is that soon, or later,
He learns to love his Alma Mater.

THE SOPH

The college Soph is standing proof
Of Darwin's evolution:
Last year a Frosh, but now, b'gosh,
He owns the institution.
He plainly shows how much he knows,
By his lordly inclination;
He goes around with an air profound,
Dispensing information.
The wonder grows that all he knows
Is held by one small nut shell;
He can't see why he's been passed by
As Prexy's private counsel.

Over a million shoppers pass thru our 1,400 stores every week. They place in our hands a purchasing power that enables us to demand the very lowest price the manufacturer is able to make.

THE OLD GRAD

The gay old grads are back again,
They set a breezy pace;
They love their Alma Mater so
They almost wreck the place.

They give their yells, they sing their songs,
While marching through the halls;
The shingles fall from off the roof,
The plaster from the walls.

Next year they're coming back again,
With all their show and noise;
We'll try to fix things strong enough
To hold the gay old boys.

"What honors did you have, simple?"
"Say—you're not so brilliant either."

* * *

"Who was that fellow, Jack?"
"He's just half man and half goat."
"Just another husband, then."

* * *

"Then we're engaged?"

"Yes, dear."

"And I am the first girl you ever loved?"

"No, dear, but I'm harder to suit now than I used to be."

"I was suddenly reminded that the Prom isn't so far away."

"How?"

"I saw several couples necking last night."

Young Harkins: "But, sir, am I to

"You call that an elevator dance? Why, you're standing still all the time."

"Shuah! That's the dance. They's

Alice, aged seven: "Auntie, were you ever in a predicament?"

Maiden Aunt: "No, dear, but heaven knows, I've tried."

THE JUNIOR

Two fateful years he's traveled through,
And yet he's living still;
The danger point is over now,
Because he's passed fool's hill.

We've tried to guide him through the time,

When folly drinks her fill;
But now he's almost made the grade,
The danger of fool's hill.

He's taken on some good horse sense,
But lost much froth and frill,
He shows some signs of first-class stuff,
Since he's passed fool's hill.

CONVERSE BUILDING

Of all the ungodly sights and sounds,
That make you scringe and shiver,
There's nothing that can be compared
To that darned old college flivver.

It litters up the streets by day,
At night disturbs our slumber;
It skids and slides and rattles so,
The cops can't read its number.

They've stripped it down and dressed it up,
To suit some crazy notion;
And when it shimmies down the street,
It takes the pot for motion.

And when some day it takes the pike,
And falls into the river,
"Now I'll be damned!" the stream will cry,
"By that old College Flivver."

Our Editor gets dope on the Beauty and Popularity Queens—?
Why the Wyo was Late—

Rescued — June 16
by Alice Moudy — "30"

And here you are!

SO YOU MAY KNOW

TO THE PUBLIC:

It has been a problem to decide whom to publish as the Editor of the 1929 "Wyo." When school was out, in June, 1929, I was asked to take over the business end of the "Wyo" and finish it up, seeing that the advertising was in, etc. This I promised to do. After all of the students had gone and I was trying to find out what had to be done, the real problem opened up to me. The "Wyo" was about one-fourth finished, which meant that it didn't pay to go on with the advertising if we were not to have a book, so I took on that responsibility, too. I have done the best I could with what material I had. Some of it I had to wait for until this fall, which delayed the printing.

At least, I hope the book is worth something to you and that I have been, to some extent, successful.

Sincerely,

ALICE MOUDY.
